

LOCKER TERMINOLOGY

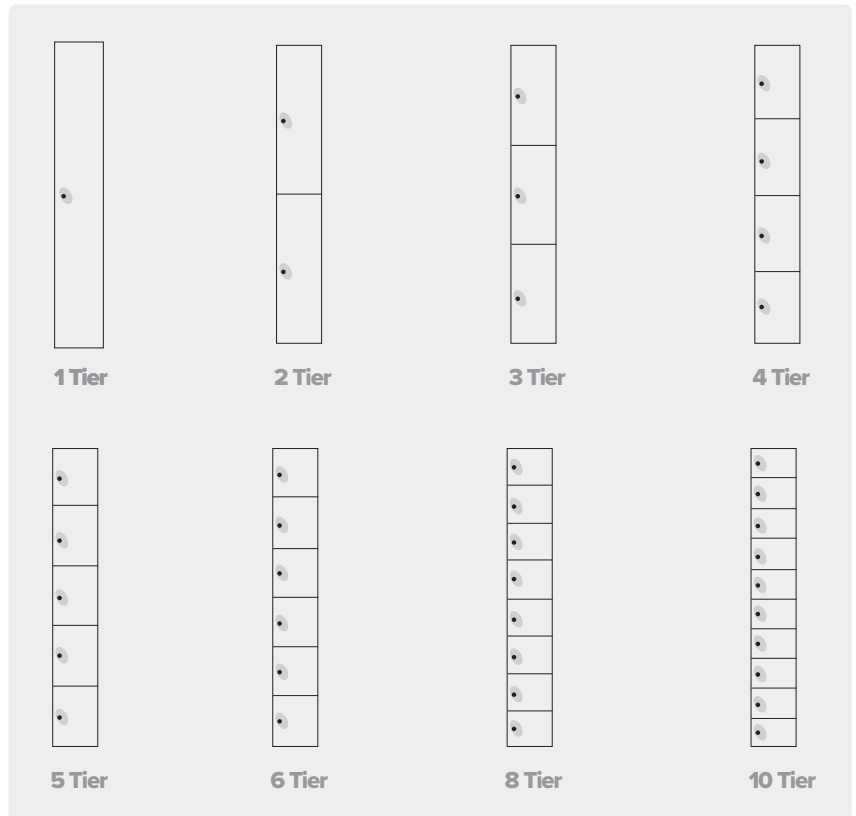

LOCKER UNIT

A standard locker unit is best described as a column which houses individual locker compartments.

The individual locker compartments is called a TIER.

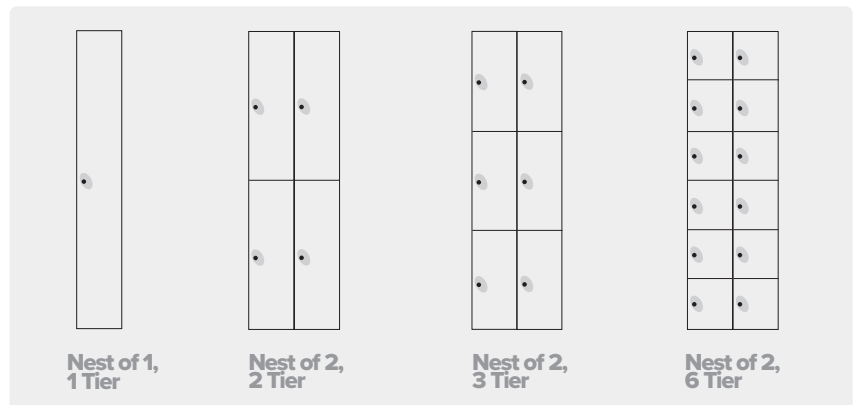

TIER

The tier describes the number of compartments within the locker unit.

NEST

The nest refers to the number of locker units that are grouped together to form a bank of lockers.

LOCKER TOPS

Lockers can be manufactured with a flat top or sloping top.

