

GARRAN

Opus 4

Project

Overview

Garran collaborated with Opus 4 to design, produce, and install a customised locker and drying solution tailored to the specific needs of their customers' locker rooms. The project was delivered in two phases, covering both the administration block and the maintenance department.

Objectives

Garran worked alongside Opus 4 to design, manufacture, and install a bespoke locker design with drying solution for their customers' locker rooms.

The project aimed to provide a durable, functional, and visually appealing solution that aligned with the overall refurbishment and enhanced user comfort

Solution

To ensure the best possible outcome, Garran worked closely with Opus 4 throughout the design and installation phases. The team meticulously planned each stage to meet the client's unique requirements. Materials and finishes were carefully chosen for durability and aesthetic appeal, complementing the refurbished space. The lockers featured seamlessly integrated heating elements and thermostats, allowing users to control the temperature as needed.

Key Features

- Bespoke 1-tier Premier Heated Lockers with individual heating elements and thermostats
- Solid SGL benches to enhance durability and functionality
- Secure, fully customised solutions
- Black and Refresh Oak colour scheme to complement the refurbishment's design

Results

The installation of Garran's Premier Heated Lockers provided a high-quality, practical solution that addressed the specific needs of Opus 4's clients. The combination of security, functionality, and style resulted in a highly efficient and visually appealing locker room environment.

Testimonial

"I've worked with Garran Lockers over the course of the last 12 months. They have supplied and installed Opus with 115 bespoke heated lockers. I have found the process from the design stage through to delivery and install very good.

Dana was very communicative throughout the entire project, responses to queries have been quick and also managed to set up meetings with the Garran Technical team with no delay to the programme.

The install team worked very professionally and were willing to look to find solutions to any obstacles that came their way.

I can highly recommend Garran Workspaces for all locker & washroom requirements!"
